

Fiscal Year 2014 Final School Budget Worksheet

Coolidge High School

What is the difference between my school's initial budget allocation and my school's submitted school budget?

The key to understanding the DCPS school budget process is to recognize that it consists of two parts. First, your school receives its initial budget allocation worksheet, which represents the money that the school receives as a product of the DCPS Comprehensive Staffing Model, or CSM.

After your school receives its initial budget allocation worksheet, the second phase of school budgeting begins. This is when school principals work with Local School Advisory Teams (LSATs) to develop school budgets based on the resources provided in the allocation worksheet. Certain allocated positions, such as Special Education teachers, are required, meaning cannot be repurposed in any way. Other allocated positions, such as clerks or business managers, are flexible, meaning can be repurposed at the discretion of the school principal. The product of this process of determining exactly which positions to budget for, as well as how much to budget for non-personnel costs such as supplies and materials, is the submitted school budget. This worksheet is your school's submitted school budget for Fiscal Year 2014 (FY14).
